

COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY: IT ADMINISTRATION

ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE
62-69 CREDITS

The Information Technology Administration degree emphasizes essential computerized technologies for business and industry. This program equips students with the skills to effectively administer diverse computer networks.

Students will receive extensive training in administering specific operating systems like Linux, various Microsoft network systems, and other utilities. It covers aspects of MCSA, CompTIA Linux+, Net+, Security+, and A+ certifications.

Graduates will have an understanding of network operating systems, PC connectivity, network resources, network utilities, and network administration.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

- Computer Support Specialist
- Information Technology Manager
- Network Administration Specialist
- Systems Analyst
- Systems Engineer

KEY COURSES

- Local Area Networks
- Visual Basic Programming
- Windows Enterprise Desktop Operating Systems
- Database Management
- LINUX Operating System
- Visual Basic Programming

WE ARE ACCREDITED.

Penn Highlands is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. This means you will receive the same quality of education as major four-year institutions in our area.

WE ARE FAMILY.

Our supportive staff and faculty are here for you. We are available to listen, offer advice, and provide support to help you succeed. With an 18:1 student-to-faculty ratio, the hands-on support you will receive feels like family.

DISCOVER MORE ABOUT THIS PROGRAM.

